

Gregorio “Dj Moyo” Burgos

2025 Leadership Class

Category: Media

Gregorio Burgos, better known as DJ Moyo, is a respected media personality, award-winning DJ, and cultural connector with over 25 years of experience in broadcasting and live entertainment. Based in Tampa, Florida, he is the creator and host of El Arranke Mix, a high-energy regional Mexican mix show that airs across Florida, St. Louis, and South Texas. The show delivers more than music—it’s his way to connect communities with important resources and relevant voices.

Gregorio’s talent and presence have earned him national recognition. In 2010, he was named DJ of the Year by Univision and performed live at Premios Juventud, reaching an audience of more than 12 million viewers. He has also toured across the country, opening shows for major artists including Grupo Firme, making him a staple in the regional Mexican music scene.

Through his broadcast work, Greg has established lasting partnerships with organizations such as Moffitt Cancer Center, Casa Chiapas, and the Mexican Consulate, utilizing radio as a platform to promote public health, legal services, and cultural outreach. His efforts have played a key role in the success of consumoviles—mobile events that provide documentation and support to Mexican nationals in Florida.

Greg’s ability to combine entertainment with purpose makes him a trusted figure in Spanish-language media. His platform frequently features content on immigration, health, civic engagement, and local business support. He’s passionate about amplifying Latino voices and creating space for representation through music, storytelling, and community service.

Listeners can tune in to Greg Monday through Friday from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. on La Ley 107.7 FM / 1550 AM in Tampa. His show, El Arranke Mix, airs daily at noon and again at 5 p.m., and is currently syndicated across six stations, including affiliates in St. Louis, Missouri, and Mission, Texas.

Earlier in his career, Greg worked as a migrant advocate after earning a Bachelor’s in Social Work from the University of South Florida. While his path led him to media, the core values from his advocacy days—equity, access, and service—continue to influence his mission.

Whether he’s behind the mic, on a stage, or working with community leaders, Gregorio remains committed to using his voice & media as a bridge—connecting people to culture, opportunity, and each other.
